

STOMATOPODS OF PHUKET ISLAND, THAILAND

By HUGH DINGLE¹, ROY L. CALDWELL^{2,3}

Phuket Marine Biological Center and

RAYMOND B. MANNING

Department of Invertebrate Zoology (Crustacea), National Museum of Natural History, Washington, D.C., U.S.A.

CONTENTS

	Page
Abstract	1
I. Introduction	1
II. Methods of Collection	2
III. Distribution at Laem Pan Wa	3
IV. Descriptions of Families and Species	5
(a) Key to Stomatopod families found at Phuket	5
(b) Family Lysiosquillidae Giesbrecht, 1910	6
(c) Family Squillidae Latreille, 1803	8
(d) Family Gonodactylidae Giesbrecht, 1910	11
V. Summary	19
References	20

ABSTRACT

Collections of stomatopods from Phuket include species from three families of stomatopods: Lysiosquillidae, Squillidae, and Gonodactylidae. Species of Gonodactylidae are distributed from the high intertidal to the subtidal zones. Keys and descriptions of families and species are given, including notes on color and distribution of the species.